CASHLESS HERE WE COME

TNG Digital is steadily driving the charge ahead as the leading eWallet for Malaysians to use anywhere, anytime.

DIGITAL payments are fast becoming a norm in our lives. From online shopping to e-hailing and food delivery, most of us are used to paying for our commodities online and there is little need to carry around so much cash in one's pockets.

This was certainly not the case a decade ago when society was still cautious about how secure these digital payments were. But the switch towards digital has been garnering momentum, and it will soon be time for everyone to educate themselves and choose the wisest technological options available.

Touch 'n Go, which has always pioneered the move towards a cashless society as well as built on the urban mobility infrastructure in Malaysia, has taken a lead in this environment. With the Touch 'n Go eWallet, TNG Digital is transitioning users faster along the cashless journey. Passionate about the country's future as a cashless society, TNG Digital is steadily driving the charge ahead as the leading eWallet for Malaysians to use anywhere, anytime, and thus helping to shape the ecosystem of mobile payments in Malaysia using the latest technology.

"I haven't really been using my eWallet to pay when I am out shopping yet because I am used to using my credit cards or other options. I usually associate Touch 'n Go with tolls or parking," said one long-time Touch 'n Go card user. "But I think that's about to change. I keep noticing all these latest offers on my app, and I am thinking why not use eWallet more often? I mean if there's a discount or an offer, why not?" What about on the road? If you activate the PayDirect feature in your eWallet now, you can enjoy up to 20% toll rebates for up to 10 toll trips. Set up "Auto Reload" in your eWallet without any reloading fee, and you will always have enough balance to pay at participating highways! The minute your funds dip below a preset amount, it will be automatically reloaded. So no more worries about having enough funds.
